WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 6th – 21:00 – KOPAVOGSVÖLLUR - KOPAVOGUR (ICELAND)

UEFA WOMEN CHAMPIONS LEAGUE – WEEK 1 – BROADCAST: DAZN / YOUTUBE

ROSTER

OPENING NIGHT

Paris Saint-Germain will play his first UEFA Women's Champions League match of the 2021/2022 season tonight. It is also a first for new coach Didier Ollé-Nicolle, who is new to the competition.

STRAIGHT TO THE SEMIS

Last season, the 2020-2021 French champions reached the Champions League semi-finals for the fifth time. In the quarter-finals last season, Paris Saint-Germain ended the dominance of Olympique Lyonnais, who had won the previous five editions of the competition.

AGAINST THE LEADER

Breidablik has won the Icelandic championship 18 times. The "Úrvalsdeild Kvenna" champions have lost only two of their last 12 UWCL matches (including qualifying matches). The opponent of Paris has already scored 19 goals in the competition this season.

MILESTONES

The captain Grace Geyoro can play her 110th game all competitions included Paris tonight. Marie-Antoinette Katoto needs to score twice to reach the 120-goal mark all competitions included for Paris. The French striker reached the symbolic 100 last December.

2/3

Sara Dabritz and Marie-Antoinette Katoto have been nominated for the Player of the Month award of September in D1 Arkema. Both players from the capital have scored three goals this season.

POWER 4

Didier Ollé-Nicolle's players have won their first four games of the season (12 goals scored), including the derby against Paris FC (4-0).

NADIA NADIM, THE MOVIE

This Wednesday, at 9:08 pm, Canal+ will broadcast the film Nadia, directed by Anissa Bonnefont, on the life of former Paris Saint-Germain player Nadia Nadim. It is a portrait of the Danish international, who left her native country, Afghanistan, at the age of 11.
